Book Match

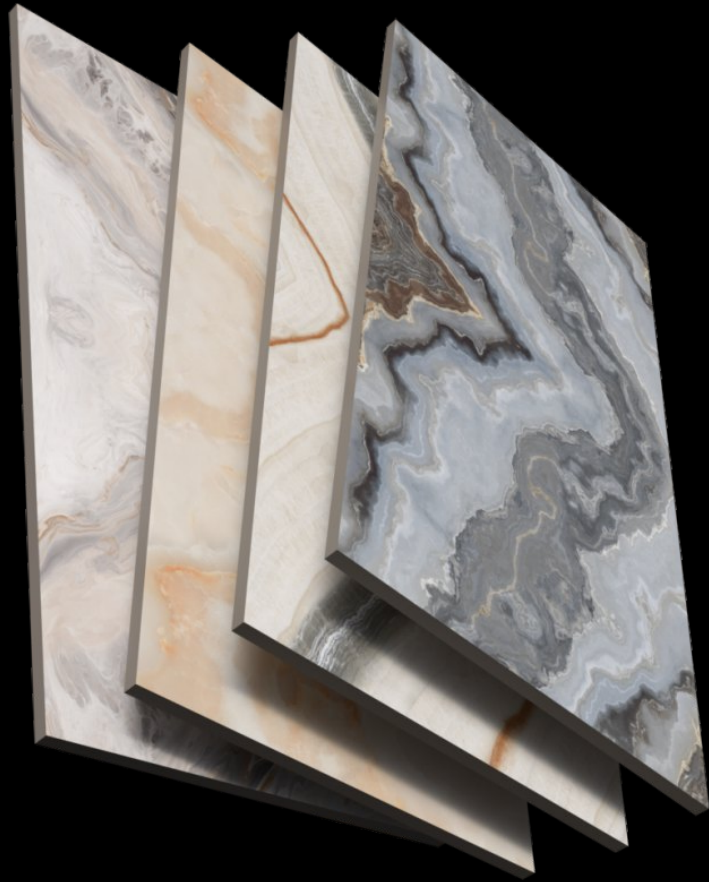

When two tiles are placed face to face, book-match tiles are produced that resemble an open book. Due to the use of the mirror image technique, the finished product is reminiscent of an open book, hence the name "book-matched tiles."

"Imlis Ceramica has a wide selection of book-matched tiles. In this two tiles are arranged next to each other and give the appearance of a single design Marble."

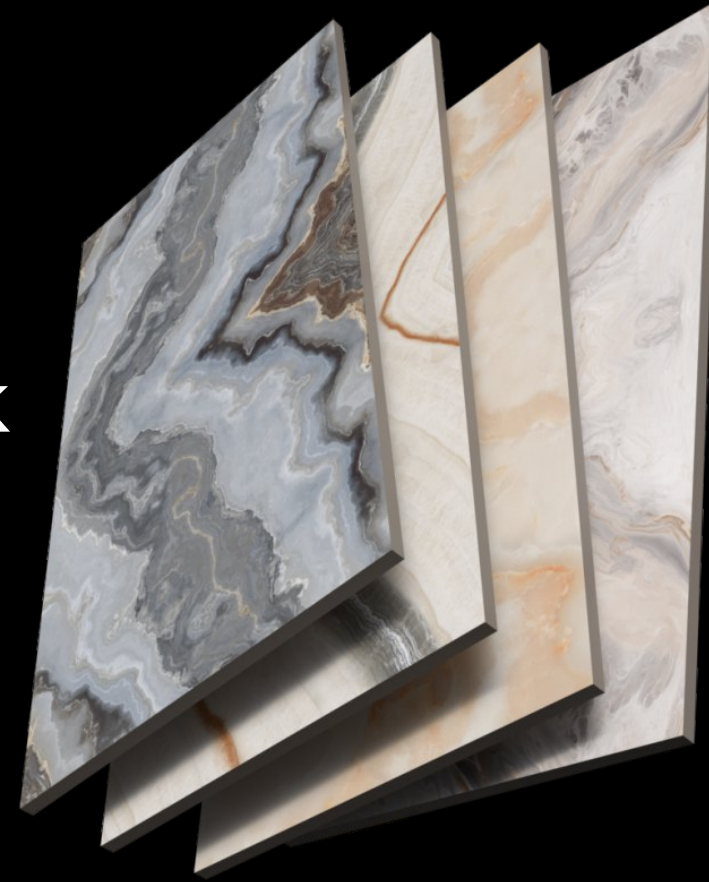

They look spectacular in large space areas like banquet hall because the size automatically helps the look come together. The rich patterns of book-match tiles can improve the overall appearance of any area.

These book-matched tiles have a lot of versatility because they can be used on walls and floors. With these tiles, you can express your creativity in both indoor and outdoor spaces.
